

Community Development Seminar Series

Presents a videoconference

Regional Video-Conference

“Thinking outside the Box”

A community development perspective from the regions

30 November 2006
9.30 - 11.00 am
(9.15am Dial -in)

Three inspiring country women will share their stories of community development “in the bush” direct from Tambellup Telecentre. Learn about the “Hidden Treasures of the Great Southern” and how to encourage local collaboration and cooperation when the going gets tough!

- Di Holly was runner up, 2005 Rural Woman of the Year.
- Tracey King is a finalist, 2006 Southern Region Young Leader.
- Vicki Brown is a Community optimist and Small Business Field Officer.

Regional centres – please book your place on the attached VC Booking form and email cindy@learningcentrelink.asn.au or fax 9228 9015 to Cindy Gorton at Learning Centre Link. You will also need to book the room at your local videoconference site.

For general enquiries please contact Lesley Gilroy at the City of Melville on 9364 0663 or email – lgilroy@melville.wa.gov.au

More information <http://cdswa.blogspot.com>

Seminar Partners

This seminar is part of the WA Community Development Seminar Series sponsored by:

- Learning Centre Link
- WA Department for Community Development
- Lotterywest
- WACOSS
- Social Work - University of Western Australia
- Telecentre Support Unit
- City of Melville
- Alcoa Research Centre for Stronger Communities, Curtin University of Technology
- Australian Government Department of Family and Community Services
- Telethon Institute for Child Health Research